REFERENCES:

“Lindsey is great. She cut the first three episodes of series 3 of The Bay for us and two of those episodes locked with not one single note from the network. That's unheard of and goes to her skill at storytelling. The first cuts I saw were assured, clear about the storytelling and excellent on performance. Lindsey's approach is hugely creative and collaborative and always in service of the show as a whole...there's no ego at play...she's a proper team player. She's delightful to work with. Can't recommend her enough.”

Catherine Oldfield, Creative Director Tall Story Pictures

“Lindsey was a godsend on The Syndicate 4. We were working under immense pressure with covid and to have a rock solid assembly to start work on was invaluable. Lindsey is an inventive, instinctive editor and an absolute pleasure to work with. Even as we piled more work onto her, nothing was ever too much. I hope I get the chance to work with her again.”

Kay Mellor OBE, Managing Director, Rollem Productions and Director & Exec for The Syndicate

“I worked with Lindsey on series 3 of Ackley Bridge and I found her to be imaginative, intuitive, and collaborative. One of the hardest things for any editor coming onto a series is grasping what makes it work, and Lindsey got the show straight away. Her storytelling instincts are strong, I felt I could always trust her to hunt down the strongest performances and she cut with real flair. It was a pleasure from start to finish”.

George Ormond, Executive Producer

“I'm very happy to recommend Lindsey as an editor. She is smart, sensitive and supremely efficient. She is calm and clear and therefore very easy to work with under pressure”.

Tim Whitby, Producer, Director & Writer

“I had the pleasure of working closely with Lindsey on a BBC1 drama, The Village. I thought she had excellent storytelling instincts, a great sense of dramatic rhythm and worked superbly under pressure. I would recommend her very highly”.

George Faber, Executive Producer

“I have known Lindsey for some time now and we have worked together on various dramas over the years. I have found her to be an excellent Editor, very good at interpreting story lines, creative in her editing, energetic and a great team player, full of enthusiastic energy. She works so well under pressure and is extremely reliable in every way”.

Phil Brown, Post Production Producer
